To whom it may concern

RE: Alan Phillips, Holgate NSW 2260

Alan Phillips is a hard working member of the community who performs a great deal of voluntary work for The Cancer Council. Since 2004, he has played an integral role in volunteer committees that deliver an important community based fundraising event, the Relay for Life. Alan has fulfilled the roles of Chair of the committee, entertainment and activities co-ordinator and most importantly, has acted as the MC for these events for the past four years.

Alan brings many special qualities to any role he tackles and has provided support, guidance, new ideas and motivation to other members of the committee. He has a talent for making people feel at ease in all situations and displays polished skills for his greatest passion - 'commentating' an event. I believe Alan could commentate/MC almost any event (ceremony, media launch etc) professionally, with understanding, compassion and good humour.

Alan is a responsible and honest member of the community and contributes in a positive way to all fundraising efforts of The Cancer Council.

Kind Regards
